Aspects of Spiritual Mediumship ~ A Personal Perspective

Janice has been a Spiritual Medium, Writer and Teacher for nearly 20 years and has regularly spoken and demonstrated mediumship in Spiritualist centres and churches throughout Melbourne and country Victoria. Janice has studied spirituality, mediumship, psychology, counselling and related subjects, both formally and through extensive personal reading and research. She has sat in development circles and attended several intensive mediumship courses, including three at the Arthur Findlay College in England.

Janice has written two books on spiritual communication, 'Things That I Believe In' and 'All You Need Is Love'. In addition, she is a Reiki & Seichim Master Healer/Teacher and an experienced workshop and group Facilitator.

The subject of mediumship often inspires debate and skepticism, yet for those who are open to the notion that life continues after physical death and that spiritual communication is possible, good mediumship can be a great source of healing and comfort. As more people are beginning to explore their own intuitive and mediumistic capabilities and are acknowledging their personal mystical experiences, fear of the unknown is being replaced by fascination and an urge to know more. It is important to share messages and insights from Spirit, yet it is also important to demystify mediumship. Spiritual communication is normal and natural and while it should be respected, it need not be feared. These are exciting times for those who are called to be messengers for Spirit!

The Evenings' Presentation will Focus on;

- Mediumship – What is It?
- Different Kinds of Mediumship.
- Who is or can be a Medium – Are We Born that Way or is it Learned and/or Earned?
  - Pathways to Mediumship – Developing the Gift.
  - Pitfalls for the Unwary – Why the Road is Long.....
  - Mediumship – Past, Present and Future.
